From The Principal

1997 has been an action packed year with many events and achievements occurring. Students and staff are to be congratulated on their enthusiasm and energetic participation in activities such as:

- Swimming, athletics and winter sports carnivals
- Geography and Outdoor Education camps and excursions
- English Department excursions to the theatre and cinemas in Perth
- Inter-school debating conducted over two terms on Wednesday evenings
- Model United Nations Assembly held in Harvey over a weekend
- A reward excursion, sailing at Rockingham
- Student exchange programs
- HASHS to Ashes battles and Year 12 Graduations

With ever-increasing pressure on schools and teachers to deliver a sound education, and cater for students' emotional and social needs, it takes a great deal of commitment to fit so many extra-curricular activities into the school year. We hope that this year's magazine will reflect much of that activity and the very valuable learning and enjoyment that takes place.

I would particularly like to thank Mr Andris Derums, Mr Sean Cunnane, Mr Peter Baylis, Mr Peter Cook and Mr Eric Radice for their dedicated and hard work in producing the 1997 Stirling. Without their efforts we would not have this wonderful record of HASHS in 1997.

This is a significant publication because the school is about to undergo change in 1998, with the Agricultural Campus becoming a college in its own right, with its own principal. This is thus the last year of Harvey Agricultural Senior High School.

This is also my last year at the school, and I would like to say thank you to staff, students and parents alike for their warmth and friendliness, their hard work and support. My association with both the school and the community has been particularly rewarding and I will always treasure my memories of HASHS and Harvey.

Best wishes to all
Suzanne Saunders.

The Valedictory Speech

I would like to share with you a letter which I recently came across that I feel reflects the importance that the parting of friends and loved ones has in our lives. It is a correspondence between a grandparent and their grandchild.

My dearest child

As you are aware my health has been failing me of late. I find my thoughts turning more and more to those who have shared my life and made it the wonderful experience it has been. I would like, if I may, to share some ideas I have come to accept as truths in my life. They have guided me throughout my life and now I share them with you in the hope that they may bring you a greater understanding of the greatest of all mysteries.....life

Accept advice At this point in your young life, many people will be offering you advice about many different things. It is hard to know what advice is valuable to you in your life and what is not. Remember this, advice is a gift given to you by others in the hope that you will not follow the same path that they have followed. In truth, the advice does not become valuable until such a time that you've made the mistake yourself it is then that we understand the importance of the advice and actually listen to it.

Be yourself You can not be anyone else. You are as individual as each passing day with you own gifts and outlook on life. Everyone experiments with different things in their lives. Life is laid out before you with an infinite number of paths to your future. With each passing day the number of paths dwindle, this is the true nature of life. Being you should be an exciting and fulfilling experience. Don't be afraid to make mistakes. Mistakes are the most valuable lessons in life as they are the ones which we learn from the most. It is not wrong to make mistakes, we wouldn't be human if we didn't. Treat each mistake as a challenge to improve, to do better the next chance you get.

Continue to learn As you approach the end of your schooling experience you come to what may well be the biggest turning point in your life. No longer is there the security of the school life to fall back on should you want to avoid making decisions. Just like a child who's lost their security blanket, things begin to seem very daunting. It's not as easy to make a decision when you know you have to live with it and you can't just change things as easily as you may have done in the past.

Dare to live As a child, for your own protection, you were taught to fear things that you did not know or understand. As an adult you must now challenge those fears which have protected you throughout your childhood. Face your fears and attempt overcome them. Don't be afraid to leave the security of your childhood to find another place to learn and grow. For some, this other place may be just down the street whereas for others, it may be half a world away. No matter where you find your place in life to be, just remember that friends and family will always be there for you, no matter what you choose to do with your life.

Although we will be parting soon, it does not mean the end. It is simply a chance for us both to encounter new experiences and meet new people who will continue to enrich our lives. We never truly part, because each of us will always carry the memories of the other, where ever we may go. So I wish you well at this our parting, knowing that you will live your life to it's fullest and will hold fond memories of the times we have spent together.

My parting gift to you can be found in the words of Henry David Thoreau.

*"I went to the woods because I wanted to live deliberately.
I wanted to live deep and suck all the marrow of life ... and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived."*

At this our parting I would like to wish you all a long and fulfilling life. Do not be afraid to follow your dreams, you may never catch them if you are following other paths. Don't let others decide who you should be or what you should want, live life and find that out for yourself. Most importantly, take care of yourself. Each of you has something of incredible value and uniqueness to offer the world.....yourselves.

Until we, as fellow travellers in life, meet again, fare you well...

Leanne Rognetta

Structured Work Based Learning

In Fond Memory of Louise Minnella

The plaque dedicated to Louise

The Jacaranda tree planted in memory of Louise.

*I'll remember you as a sunflower
Who blossomed in every season
Then sadly, you were taken from our garden,
And we demand a reason.*

*I'll never accept it was fair
that you were taken away
But God must have needed the best so you were chosen straight away.*

*If tears could build a stairway
and thoughts a Memory Lane
We would run right up to heaven
and bring you back again.*

*We miss you!
With Love Always*

Julie

*You're out of our lives
We don't want to accept it
You're out of our lives
But we must respect it
How could someone so nice and kind
Be taken from us in this way?
Why did your life end so wrong?
But we can't keep on
Dreaming that you are here
We must believe that you are near
Watching over us
And protecting us.*

Rest in Peace our Precious Louise.

Your friend always

Naomi

EARLY CHILDHOOD STUDIES

This year in the year 12 Early Childhood Studies course we learnt many things about children;s laws and development. Both years eleven and twelve were in this class. Friendships were formed and strengthened between and in the year groups. The eight students organised through the year, three playgroups where children were invited to play organised activities. Both times students and children had great fun and the activities were considered a success. This course is a good experience and prepares the students for the challenges ahead in their life with children in general. Miss Pilmoor and Mrs Hall taught the class and made the course very interesting.

On Exchange in Italy

Ciao! Mi chiamo Kathryn Fryer...I went to Italy as an exchange student on a two month program with Intercultura at the end of November 1996. I returned at the end of January 1997. Wow - what an experience!

I stayed in Milan, which is in the northern Italian region of Lombardy. I had a wonderful exchange family which consisted of my host mamma, Graziella and my host sorella, Chiara as well as a Nonna and Nonno, zii and cugini. They were all very supportive (especially of my home sickness which I felt nearly all the time!). Despite the home sickness, which subsided after about 6 weeks, I had a ball.

I was able to experience an Italian Christmas, complete with midnight mass and a six course meal. I also took a trip to the mountains for New Year - where I saw snow for the very first time (and froze in -15 degrees Celsius) - I even went bob sledding. I saw all the sights such as Duomo, la Scala and many other churches and squares.

I also did the normal things like attending linguistic school where the students study three languages, as well as history, philosophy, maths, physics etc. I made many friends who made my stay most enjoyable.

Most importantly I learnt a lot about the culture and language and how to adapt to the changes of a new family and community. I remember when I first arrived and could only say ciao, come stai, and when I left I could actually hold an intelligent conversation! - the feeling was wonderful, oops I mean benissimo.

It's been twelve months since I left for Italy and now I am feeling a little homesick for Italy because I really miss my family back in Milan...but there's always next year! In fact the only negative comment I can make is that after my home sickness left me, I wanted to stay even longer. It was the experience of a lifetime and if you ever get the chance - go for it!

Kathryn Fryer

Samantha Cherubino from Year 11, left on 29 November to spend two months as an exchange student in Sicily.

We look forward to seeing Samantha when she returns and wish her every success with her exchange experience.

On Exchange in Harvey

Guyaine Bonicalzi

Hi Everybody, my name is Guyaine and I'm a French Canadian. I decided to become an ASF student when my god father, Jean-Marie St-Pierre, offered me this wonderful opportunity. I chose Australia because it was my dream to see the Kangaroos and the special Australian flora. I also chose this country to improve my English!!

I live in Yarloop with the Cowie family. I have two sisters; Ruth 15 years old and Heather, 12 years old. I also have a brother, Adam who is 11 years old. Our relationship is very good. Respect and communication are two important values for us. My parents, Ann and Doug, involve a lot of time in our activities. Their children are very sports minded. In winter, Ruth and Heather play Netball and Adam football. During Summer, all three are members of the Harvey Swimming Club. They also have learned the piano for many years.

I really enjoyed going to school in Harvey. The atmosphere was pleasant and it was very easy to make friends.

During my first six months in WA I had the chance to see many different places. In January I went to Gerladton, where my sisters and brother had a swimming competition. I also went to Albany with my family during the first holidays. It was fantastic!! On the way down, we stopped to see the Jewel cave, the Valley of the Giants and Augusta. I really enjoyed climbing Bluff Knoll. It was a very good challenge. In July I went on the AFS Safari to discover many other beautiful parts in Australia. (Karijini, Millstream, Karratha, Da,pier, Coral Bay, Monkey Mia, Rocky Pool etc). This trip was Amazing!!! In November I will go on a mystery flight to visit another part of Australia. I can't wait to see that!!

I have enjoyed my AFS experience very much!! It's like a dream!!! Each day I learn or see something new and interesting. It's totally wonderful!! My future project is to visit many other countries. I hope to receive some of you in Canada during the next few years. We will keep in touch!!!

DISTANT SHORES

Somewhere
On a distant shore
Waves crash
And thunder roar

As I stand
I look out to sea
There's no-one here
Only me

And in my solitude
I shed a tear
Remember my loneliness
Forget my fear

As my pride
Rolls down my cheek
I think of times
I was scared and weak

But I went on
And on I fought
Now I'm alone
With my thought

I dream of times
Of a brighter sun
No chains to bind me
Free to run

But here I am
Bound by hate
Alone I stand
Is this my fate?

LITTLE DREAMS DO COME TRUE

The music played softly in the background
As the man danced round and round
Finally getting the steps just right
He knew it would bring the house on opening night

Opening night finally came
But it was everyone else's nerves he tried to tame
Because he had done this a million times before
He just hoped he could last through the encores.

The curtain went up and he went on stage
Ferociously he danced as if just out of a cage
His leading lady came on and up went a roar
Together they danced like never before.

THEY STILL TAKE IT

They know it is bad for them
Yet they don't even try to end.
Everywhere people are dying from it
Yet bit by bit they still take it.
People try to talk them 'round
But they don't hear a sound
Because they're so high
They could touch the sky.

People who love them watch through sad eyes
As they take it; knowing they are going to die.
People ask why don't they stop?
You say they can't stop
Now that they're addicted!
It's their own fault they say and you feel contradicted.
You know how hard it is to stop because you were one of them
But you broke out and now you try to help others end.

You plead with them to end
But they say you are driving them around the bend.
So you sit back and watch them play with their life
Knowing they will get into awful strife.
One is unconscious on the floor
as another goes back for more
So you start to cry
Knowing that doing drugs will make them die.

Before he knew it, it was the end of the show
But the crowd wasn't prepared to let him go
Finally he escaped out the back
Now knowing that this was worth all the flack.

Michael woke with a frightful start
As if just stabbed in the heart
This little boy who had wet his pants
Was dreaming of becoming the LORD OF THE DANCE.
